Metropolitan districts.—Metropolitan districts have been set up for use in the 1940 Census of Population in connection with each city of 50,000 or more, two or more such cities sometimes being in one district. The general plan is to include in the district, in addition to the central city or cities, all adjacent and contiguous minor civil divisions or incorporated places having a population of 150 or more per square mile. In some metropolitan districts a few less densely populated contiguous divisions are included on the basis of special qualifications. Only a portion of a minor civil division is included if the minor civil division has a large area and the principal concentration of population is in a small section near the central city with the more remote sections being sparsely settled. In such cases, the unit considered is not the minor civil division but component enumeration districts. (For example, not all of the enumeration districts in National township of San Diego County are included in the San Diego metropolitan district.) A metropolitan district is thus not a political unit but rather an area including all the thickly settled territory in and around a city or group of cities. It tends to be a more or less integrated area with common economic, social, and, often, administrative interests.

Table 7 shows the population of the Fresno metropolitan district and its constituent political units in 1940. This district was defined for the first time in 1940. For comparison the 1930 population of the units comprising the present district is also shown, together Incorporated places.—Table 5 shows the population in 1940 and 1930 of the incorporated places (cities and towns) in Colorado. In this table the places are arranged in alphabetical order, each followed by the name of the county in which it is located. In table 6 the population of the cities of 5,000 or more that are subdivided into wards is shown by wards.

NOTE.—Other cities of more than 5,000 (Colorado Springs, Denver, and Pueblo) have no wards.

Metropolitan districts.—Metropolitan districts have been set up for use in the 1940 Census of Population in connection with each city of 50,000 or more, two or more such cities sometimes being in one district. The general plan is to include in the district, in addition to the central city or cities, all adjacent and contiguous minor civil divisions or incorporated places having a population of 150 or more per square mile. In some metropolitan districts a few less densely populated contiguous divisions are included on the basis of special qualifications. Only a portion of a minor civil division is included if the minor civil division has a large area and practically all of the population is concentrated in a small section in or near the central city with the more remote sections being very sparsely settled. In such cases, the unit considered is not the minor civil division but component enumeration districts. (For example, not all of the enumeration districts in precincts 1, 9, 14, 34, and 35, of Pueblo County are included in the Pueblo metropolitan district.) A metropolitan district is thus not a political unit but rather an area including all the thickly settled territory in and around a city or group of cities. It tends to be a more or less integrated area with common economic, social, and, often, administrative interests.

Table 7 shows the population of the Denver metropolitan district and its constituent political units in 1940 and some comparative figures for 1930, together with the increase or decrease during the decade. In 1940 the Denver metropolitan district had 384,372 inhabitants, whereas in 1930 the district as then constituted had a population of 330,761. Precinct 28, Baker, in Adams County, was included in the metropolitan district in 1940 for the first time. The re-districting of Arapahoe County also resulted in a net increase in the part included in the metropolitan district. The increase in the population of the metropolitan district attributable to the total change in area included is thus not obtainable.

² NEW CASTLE.—Parts of district 6 annexed to Wilmington city (district 2) in 1933. Newark town returned in 1930 and 1920 as in district 9 only.

Incorporated places.—Table 5 shows the population arranged in alphabetical order, each followed by the name of the county in which it is located. In table 6 the population of Wilmington is presented by wards.
